Theatre-Royal.

MR KEMBLE does himself the honour of informing the Nobility and the Public, that the THEATHE ROYAL will OPEN ON SATURDAY, January 19th, with the highly celebrated Comedy, now acting in London with the greatest success and applause, to crouded and brilliant audiences, called THE STRANGER.

In respect and gratitude to the Proprietors of the Theatre Royal in Drury Lanc, Mr Kemble thinks it only proper to mention, that no other Manager has been favoured by them with the manuscript copy of the Stranger, which the Public may be assured in a most excellent Piece, and very superior, (fer Stage effect at least) to the printed Play.

The very great expence attending the getting up of "Blue Beard," which is now almost ready for representation, Mr Kemble hopes, will be received by the Edinburgh Audience as a small tribute of gratitude for the kind manner in which he has always been protected in his difficult situation. He thinks he may venture to say that, London excepted, there never was a theatrical spectacle, in point of decorative splendour; brought forward with equal magnificence. The Scenery is entirely by that admirable artist, Mr Naismith, and the Dresses, Elephants, Camels, Horses, Palanquins, &c. &c. by Mr Johnston, the mechanist of Drury Lanc Theatre, and are all exactly finished as in London.

ROYAL TELEGRAPH LIGHT POST COACH, with Four Horses, Lampa, and Guard the whole way.

WILLIAM LOFTUS & CO. Proprietors of the Royal Telegraph beg leave, in the most humble manner, to return their thanks to the Public for the very liberal encouragement they have experienced since the above Coach commenced running betwix Edinburgh and London, and heg leave to inform them, that by the advice of their Friends, they have extended the concern to GLASGOW.

As the Proprietors of the Royal Telegraph have (for the sake of public advantage,) been the first to introduce a four horse Coach upon the Glasgow road, which for care and expedition, they hope to give universal satisfaction, they therefore beg leave to solicit the countenance of a generous Public, in case any attempt is made to oppose them, being satisfact that, unless they had stept forward the Public would still have been deprived of a conveyance of this nature.

The above Coach commenced running to Glasgow this day, and will continue to set off every morning at severe o'clock, from Mr Wordsworth's Caledonian. Tavern and Coffeelouse, Leith Terrace, and arrives at Mr Gardner's, Buck's Head, Glasgow, in six hours, from whence it sets out at four afternoon, and returns to Mr Wordsworth's, Rdinburgh, at ten o'clock same night, where the best beds and accommedation may be depended on.

Plymouth Coaches, and Coaches to all parts of the West of England.

The Proprietors flatter themselves, that the advantages attending this Coach will be obvious to every one, not only from its going through all the principal manufacturing towns in England with the greatest expedition, but also at a much cheaper rate than any other coach in the kingdom. The utmost attention will be paid to the accommodation of the Passengers; the Proprietors therefore hope their endeavours will ensure them that encouragement which they will always studiously endeavour to deserve.

* The Proprietors cannot be accountable for any Parcel or Luggage of more than Five Pounds value, if lost or damaged, unless enterted as such, and paid for accordingly.

The above Coach is particularly adapted for carrying Parcels; and for small Parcels of great value, there is a cim nodious place under the Guard's seat appropriated for that purpose.

JANUARY 8.

The mail from Lifbon, which arrived yesterday brought dispatches from Lord St Vincent, who writes that he had learnt that Malta was taken on the 10th of November : but he does not flate this news as official Our fleet was all well, and Admiral Lord St Vincent determines to continue on his important station.

A letter from Lifbon, dated December 22, fays-Two of the foreign regiments in garrison in this city have received orders to embark for the Mediterranean

The Portuguese Government oppose their departure, on the ground that the place of the 51st regiment has not yet been supplied, and there is now only the Royal Strangers, which are not under orders to leave Lisbon. The Prioce de Brazil is extremely well pleafed with the good discipline which Gen. Stuart bas established in every part of the auxiliary army.

"The camp of instruction, consisting of 6000 Portuguese, is raised, and the troops are gone into quarters. Nothing can equal the fortitude with which the troops have endured the inconvenience to which two months continual rain has driven them. From this experiment, however, it is concluded that they will equal the best troops in the field.

"I am forry that I cannot unequivocally confirm the capture of Malta, because the letters by the Italian courier have failed; but the vessels which have arrived from the Mediterranean affure us that the garrifon furrendered on the 10th of December, and that the articles of capitulation stipulated that the English shall re-tain it until the peace:—indeed they have no necessity for it, except in time of war, and they will no doubt take care to keep this port open for themselves in any

The letters which came by last packet from Brazil, bring an account that a disposition to an insurrec-tion on French principles had manifested itself in All Saints Bay, and that the leaders of it had written to the Bishops, commanding them to preach liberty, and to proclaim a national assembly. Fifty of the ringleaders have been arrested. The army has, however, every where effected the restoration of order."

We are forry to learn by the Lisbon mail of yesterday, that the outward bound fleets that failed for Lifbon and the West Indies in the month of November last, met with such severe gales of wind, that some are loft, a few taken, and some of the West Indiamen have put into Lifbon.

The last advices from Madrid state, that the French Ambassador has demanded of the Court of Madrid six Swifs Walloon regiments, in the room of the 18 000 troops which it is to supply the Republic in case of an attack. The Swifs and Walloons are certainly the best troops in his Spanish Majesty's service.

We are forry to hear the capture of the Ambuscade frigate is confirmed. She engaged the French ship upwards of three hours, when her foremast falling over, dropt on the deck of the enemy's ship, which made a kind of bridge into the Ambuscade, and she was boarded. The French ship was full of troops.

The great pig, brought from Wicklow to Windsor, by Mr Wright, not being accepted by his Majesty, was fent yesterday in a waggon to London for sale.

A GALLANT ACTION.

Yesterday an account was received in town from Portsmouth, of the arrival there of the Woolverine gun veffel, commanded by Captain Mortlock. This veffel failed from the Downs only on Thursday last on a cruife off the French coast, and on the following day The fell in with two large French luggers, one carrying 16 guns, and the other, 14, and having on board 140 men each. A very warm action immediately commenced, and was fulfained for near two hours. During which the Frenchmen attempted to board the Woolve rine. Captain Mortlock, with his own hands, lashed one of the French vessels to an iron stanchion of his thip, which, however, unfortunately gave way, and the Frenchman got off, and they being close in with their own thore, they both escaped.

Captain Mortlock was badly wounded, after having himself killed four Frenchmen who had attempted to board him. The master was likewise wounded and eight men and a feaman, and a marine were killed.— When it is confidered that the Woolverine mounts on Iy twelve guns, and carries but feventy men, and that the united force of the enemy was thirty guns, and two bundred and eighty men, this must be allowed to be one of the most gallant actions which a fingle ship has fought during the war, diffinguished as it has been by naval gallantry.

This is the same vessel that was fo eminently useful at Offend, upon the expedition under General Coote, and that was engaged off Dunkirk, and cut out nine veffels from Nieuport, all within the space of about even months.

LONDON-JANUARY. 9

INTELLIGENCE FROM FRANCE.

This morning we received, by express, French papers to the 6th inft. inclusive. The following is a brief fketch of their contents, which our readers will find unufually interesting.

On the 12 Nivose—(Jan. 1.) the Directory transmitted a meffage to the Councils, giving an account of farther victories obtained over the Neapolitans, which was in fubitance as follows:

46 CITIZENS REPRESENTATIVES.

" Eighty thousand Neapolitans had inundated the Roman territory. The French army having been attacked without any declaration of war, and unable to retain any other possessions than the Castle of Angelo, faid to the Romans, " in twenty days we will again be within your walls.

" Seventeen days did not elapse before this promise was performed. Rome is again become free. Ferro, Civita Dellrone, Civita Castellana, Rietti, Strota, Terni, and feveral other cities have in their turns feen our warriors fight and conquer.

"Twelve thousand prisoners, ninety-nine pieces of cannon, twenty-one standards and flags, three thousand horses and mules, and the baggage and the chests of the flying enemy taken, are the fruits of 20 days cam-

The Neapolitan army is completely routed. " Mack and the King were the first to fly.

" The French army are on their march against The Council declared, "that the victorious army of Italy had merited well of the country."

A letter in the Redacteur, dated 26 Frimaire (Dec. " The French army, after having had fepartial actions with the Neapolitan army, confitting of 80,000 men, has driven them entirely out of the territory of the Roman Republic. The Neapolitan troops were beaten at Ponto-Fermo, Terni, Civita Castellana, Monster-Ossi, Otricolli, Calvi, Rietti, Cività del Irono, Conta-Lupo, and Storta, and have retreated in diforder to the kingdom of Naples. General Championet advanced, on the 22d of Frimaire (Dec. 12.), to give battle to the Neapolitans, but the King, and Captain-General Mack, preferred abandoning their army, and flying with precipitation to Naples, where the agitation of the public mind is fo great that a general infurrection is dreaded. This General Mack is, however, called a great man. In the present instance he has proved that his infolence is only equalled by his cow rdice.

(Here the Letter states the number of Prisoners, &c. taken as in the Message of the Directory.)

The retreat, or rather the flight of Captain Mack, was fo precipitate, that he forgot to give orders to a corps of 4000 men posted on the environs of Civita-Castellana, to retire.—This corps, in attempting to pass the Tiber, at Rome, was attacked by the French troops, who took all the cannon and 1800 prisoners, and killed and difnerfed the remainder.

The Moniteur fays, " It is reported that great fermentation prevails at Naples. It is not certain that their fugitive King will be very well received there.
ARMY OF ITALY.

Extract of a letter from the Commander in Chief of the Army of Rome, dated ROME, 27 PRIMAIRE-DEC. 17.

The Sub-Adjutant General Delarnie, whom I fent on the 25th to Porta-Dauzo with a party, found in that port, 22 Neapolitan Tartans, 16 Genoese brigs, loaded with corn, wine, flour, falted provisions, falt, citrons, and maccaroni, of which he took possession. The enemy occupied the town when he entered. He charged them and made 30 prisoners. The remainder embarked with great precipitation and put to fea in boats, feveral of which were funk.

" It appears certain," fays la Journal de Commerce, " that the famous Divan which met at Cairo did not answer the expectation which Buonaparte had conceived of him. They determined that all innovation was contrary to the Coran, and that the Coran had forefeen every possible human contingency. On coming out of the Divan, General Z—— was attacked with fury; he defended himself for a long time, but was forced at length to yield to numbers. A General who had reexcited by their furious and zealous priefts, were preparing to destroy the institute, brought immediate assistance, and perished in the action. Buonaparte instantly affembled all the troops in the city, and ordered the alarm to be beaten. A camp of 6000 men, which was at a little distance, hastened to the place, and made a dreadful flaughter of these affassins. Fifteen hundred of them took shelter in a mosque and cried for mercy. No mercy to affaffins, was the reply. All were put to the fword, and it is added that Buonaparte withdrew to the camp."

"It it thought," continues the fame Journal, "that it is general Dupuits who perified in appealing the infurrection of part of the inhabitants of Grand Cairo .-If we may believe the Vienna Gazette, the rebellion broke out in confequence of an attempt to impose a tax of ten piastres on every house. The same Journal states the number of the French who were killed to amount to 500. They have, however, been amply avenged.'

The papers of the 4th inft. State, that two Tuscan Tartans have arrived at Leghorn from Egypt .- "They were 35 days on their passage, and have brought thirty passengers, chiefly French officers, who were wounded n the action off Aboukir. The intelligence which these officers bring, is down to the middle of Brumaire, (beginning of November,) and is very fatisfactory as to the state of Egypt.

It is stated in a Journal of the 5th, that " two En glish frigates have been run aground and taken, and several transports, having 2000 troops on board them. destined to favour the flight of the King of Naples."

It is stated in many of the papers that the people of the Island of Sardinia have refused to receive their unfortunate Sovereign. But this is merely a ru-Pafwan Oglou, it appears, still continues to be victorious. He has taken a great number of transports in the Danube, and waggons loaded with stores, &c. for the Russian army.

A considerable armament is stated to be preparing in the Texel. Several ships of war are also said to be arming in the Meuze.

The Elbe, it appears by letters from Hamburgh, has been frozen fince the 14th December.

A letter from Stockholm, dated 18th Frimaire, (Dec. 8.) States, that war is foon expected to take place between the Courts of Sweden and Petersburgh. It is faid that the latter endeavoured to prevail on the former to renounce the fystem of neutrality, and to declare against

At Mapheim the utmost activity is used in destroying the fortifications.

General Brune has received orders to go to Holland to take the command of the French troops.

A message of the Executive Directory, of the 25th December, confirms the capture of the Ambuscade frigate, of 40 guns, by La Bayonnaife, of 20, by an order as to the payment of prize-money, on account of the capture.

STRASBURGH, NOV. 30.

The greatest part of the French troops which were on the right bank of the Rhine, have quitted that bank and retired to the left. The territory of Heffe Darmstadt, and of Solms, have been first evacuated. The division of Bernadotte is already on the left bank, and General St Cyr has evacuated Wetteravia with all the troops under his command. The corps of cavalry under General Havpoult, and the troops which blockade Ehrenbreitstein, are all which remain on the right bank, in the whole extent from Duffeldorff to the Nidda.

HOUSE OF LORDS-Jan. 8.

A conversation took place respecting the State pri-foners, but no motion being made, the subject was dropt .- A debate then enfued on the third reading of income bill, which was carried on with a confiderable degree of spirit between the Earl of SUFFOLK, Lord HOLLAND, and Duke of BEDFORD, who opposed the bill, and the Earl of LIVERPOOL, Lord GRENVILLE, Lord AVEKLAND, Lord DARNLEY, the LORD CHAN-CELLOR, &c. who supported it, after which it was read

We learn that a committee of five bankers last week waited on Mr Pitt, to complain of a large iffue of Exchequer bills, which kept down the price of the Omnium. But the Minister could afford no relief to what appeared an extraordinary application.

[FROM OUR LONDON CORRESPONDENT.]
HOUSE OF LORDS—Jan. 9.

The Royal Affent was given, by Commission to the following bills:

The income bill.

The habeas corpus suspension bill.

The volunteer exemption bill. And several private bills.

The Commissioners were the Duke of Portland, the Archbishop of Canterbury, and the Lord Chancellor. Adjourned to Tuesday the 22d inft. HOUSE OF COMMONS-Jan.

The amendments made by the Lords to the volunteer exemption bill, were read and agreed to, and the bill again transmitted to the Lords.

Adjourned to Tuesday the 22d inst.

Eight Hamburgh mails are now due-a very up common circumstance.

The check which General Mack has received in leading the Neapolitan army against the French, hat induced him to retreat in order to defend the frontien of the Kingdom of Naples. From Rome to Naples there is a distance of 150 miles, but it appears the French are already fast advancing to that capital. There are, however, 10 intermediate polls which may oppose them, each of which may stand a long siege.

If the EMPEROR is to interfere he mult do fo prompt. ly; as a fingle day's delay may prove ruinous to future exertions.

It has been flated that the forces of the Kind of NAPLES amounted to 100,000 men; but this must be owing to recent levies, as they never usually exceeded 20,000 men. The officers are looked upon as exceed. ing defective in military tactics.

Should the Neapolitans be ultimately unfortunate the Grand Duke of Tuscany must fall a victim, and the confequent pillage would fupply the French army for feveral months. That of Piedmont is faid to be incalculable, being the richest country of Italy, in respect of its soil, produce of silk, commerce and the industry

BILL FOR A TAX UPON INCOME.

We have now this bill before us, as finally fent in to the Lords, where being a money bill, it is not likely to have any alterations made in it. As it now is there fore it will probably pass into a law. The alteration it has undergone are few and unimportant. We had briefly notice the principal changes.

In the claufe of abatement for children, it is alte as follows: Persons with an income above 60l. a year, and un der 400l. are to have an abatement of 3 per cent for each child born in wedlock, whatever may be its age Perfons with 400l. and under 1000l. to have 4 per cent. for each child above fix years of age, and 3 per cent. for each child under fix years old.

Persons of 1000l. and under 5000l. a year, as batement of 3 per cent. for each child above fix year, old, and of two per cent. for each child under fix years.

And persons of 5000l. a year and upwards, and batement of 2 per cent. on each child above 6 years of age, and of 1 per cent. on each child under 6 years of The following new and important clause is next:

· Provided also, and be it further enacted, that n Corporation, Fraternity or Society of persons elablished for charitable purposes only, shall be chargeable under this act in respect of the income of such Corporation, Fraternity, or Society.'
Under this clause all such institutions as the Charter

House, Dulwich College, Heriot's Hospital, &c. are properly freed from the tax.

It is also provided that no rector or vicar shall be charged in respect of any stipend paid to a curate, such rector or vicar being usually resident, and ordinarily doing duty in fome parish of which he is rector or vical or having some other legal excuse for not reliding of fuch rectory or vicarage.

In the clause for the qualification of a Commissione for any county at large, riding, thire, flewartry, city borough, town, or place, it is required that he shall have a personal estate of 10,000l, or of an estate thrice the value of the qualification required by the Commissioner of the Land Tak. Commissioners of appeal to have personal estate of 20,000l. or of an estate twice the act. Commissioners in any city, or place which is county of itself, to have an estate of 3000l. or of at estate three-fifths of the value of that required for Commissioner of a county at large. Not more than on third to be required within the district. When the tate is of a mixed nature, freehold and perfonal, for pounds per annum arifing from lands, tenements, or be editaments, to be equal to 100l. of personal estate.

ME. ly fent On the 5th initiant, the detachment of Breadalbane Fencibles, in barracks at Ayr, marched for Beith, under the command of Captain MAYNE.—The first division of the Suther and Fencibles arrived there from Ireland, under the command of Colonel CAMPBELL. On Saturday last as Mr and Mrs Nett of Shaw, were taking the air a few miles from Barnwell near Kilmarnock, Mr Nett unfortunately fell from his horfe, and though every ficans was used for his recovery, furvived only a few hours. By this afflicting acvery, lurvived only a few nours. By this afflicting ac-cident, the lofs of a most affectionate husband, tender parent, and steady friend, will be severely felt, while an uncommon goodness of heart, joined to a susceptibi-lity of the warmest friendship, will endear him long in the memory of all his friends.

On Wednesday morning a man was found dead on the rope-walk, near the Earthen Mound, without any marks of violence.—He appears to have been a labour-ing man.—His death is supposed to have been occafioned by fome fit. The body was brought to the City Guard in order to be claimed.

UNION WITH IRELAND.

In Dublin, the following is reported to be the outline of the proposed Union:

"That the number of representatives of the people in the Lower House of Parliament in Ireland shall be reduced from 300 to 150; and that this shall be done by limiting counties, cities, and boroughs, which have by limiting counties, cities, and boroughs, which have now the right of returning two members each, to one only. The 150 members thus elected to affemble in their own House, and select annually, by ballot, 100 of the body, to represent them in the Parliament of the United Kingdoms; and the other 50 to fit in their own House, and pass bills for the internal regulation and police of the kingdom, such as inclosure bills, roads, canals, &c.
"The House of Lords in the same manner to chuse

25 Lords Temporal, and fix Lords Spiritual, to re-present their body in the United Parliament, the remainder of the Peers to continue to fit in the fame

mainder of the Peers to continue to it in the lame manner as the Commons for internal regulation.

• The Lord Lieutenant and his Court, the Lord Chancellor, the Speaker, the great Officers of State, and all the prefent establishments, to be continued precifely as at present, without any diminution of salaries, for patronage. Appeals from the Courts to be made to the resident Parliament. The establishments of the Custom-house, Excise, and other public offices, to be selfo continued on the present sooting: so that Dublin also continued on the present footing; so that Dublin should feel as little change as possible from the new arrangements.

4 The Parliament of Ireland to continue to be chofen for the period of eight years; but the felection of the 100 Commoners and 31 Peers to be made annually —and in case of death to be replaced from the remainder, and a new election to be made in the usual way for the vacant place. If a delegated member shall vacate by accepting an office, then to go back to his immediate constituents, the remainder House, for his re-election.

"Thefe, we understand, are the heads of the proposed bill of Union—to which a majority of the great Lords of the Irish Parliament have given their affent, and fet their hands."

The subject of union continues to engross the public attention in Ireland, more especially that of the higher ranks, and meetings are daily held of different public bodies to discuss its merits. The metropolis has taken the lead, and in every assembly where it has been agitathe lead, and in every affembly where it has been agitated, it has met with strong reprobation. On Friday last there was held a meeting of the Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of the county of Dublin, where a vast number attended. Not a person spoke in favour of the union; many spoke against it, and in delivering their sentiments, expressed themselves in very strong terms both against the measure itself, and those men in Britain and Ireland who were supposed to give it countemance.

The Chair was taken by the High Sheriff of the county, and Mr Baker of Carduss opened the business, by delivering a speech in every respect hostile to the union, which he concluded by submitting several resolutions for the adoption of the meeting.

Sir J. J. White, Bart. approved of all that Mr Baker

Sir J. J. WHITE, Bart. approved of all that Mr Baker had faid, and feconded the refolutions proposed. He also fuggested that there should be added to the resolutions, That, not only, this was not a time, but that there " never could arrive a time, in which the people of " Ireland could think it feafonable to furrender up their lar fentiments; after which the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

rst. That the Legislative independence of Ireland has been the means of improvement and prosperity to this country, ra-pid beyond example.

2d. That we are impressed with every sentiment of loyalty to our King, and the warmest attachment to British connexion.

3d. That we consider the question of an Union as having for its basis the extinction of our separate and independent Legislature, to be hostile to the rights, liberties, and interests of Ireland; and as such should be opposed by every constitutional means in our power.

4th. That our thanks are due to our representatives for their early application for our instruction.

The Meeting proceeded to take under confideration the different articles of bufinefs which had been before their Committee of Directors fine the General Meeting in June laft, and approved of the manner in which the money voted by the Society laft year had been dispofed of, viz. in premiums for improving the bread of Black Cattle, railing Green Crops, bringing barren lands into tillage, and promoting other ufeful objects, connected with the inititution, a particular lift of all which was ordered to be made out, and published in the news-papers, in the usual form.

The Society was also pleased to find, that proper attention had been paid to the important business of the Salt Laws, as recommended at laft General Meeting; and, on hearing a report on that business from a Committee of the Society appointed by the Directors to consider this full-ject, in which report the measure of obtaining an allowance of the importation of English Salt, as well manufactured as Rock Salt, into Scotland, on payment of the Society of the Country. The Meeting unanimously approved of the faid report, and appointed the fame to be printed, and transmitted by the Secretary, to the President and Vice-Presidents of the Society, to the Right Hon. Henry Dundas, an Honorary Member of the Society, and such Members of it as a rea Members of either Houses of Parliament; expressing, at the fame time, to them, the Rrong Sense which Members of it as a rea Members of either Houses of Parliament; expressing, at the fame time, to them, the Rrong Sense which manufactories of this country; while, at fame time, the measure appears calculated to add to the security of the revenue of the kingdom, and requesting their attention and support to it, on these public and particle grounds.

The Society further, on motion, resolved to instruct the Committee of Directors to attend to the bill brought into Parliament last Session, on the suggestion of this Society, for encouraging the improving of is final feem to them most proper and effectual for having faid bill passed into a law.

The Secretary produced a letter from Sir John Dalrymple, Bart, addressed to him, covering a printed paper, relative to a discovery made by Sir John, as to the making of Soap from Fish, without Tallow or Oil, which, being read, was, on motion from Sir John Sinchier, Bart, referred to the Committee of Directors, along with other matters before the Meeting, for their discussion and deliberation.

The Meeting, on motion, resolved, That a Gold Medal or Piece of Plate, of TEN GUINEAS value, be presented to Mr Smith of Swindridgemuir, Ayrshire, for the extensive improvement made by him on a large tract of mois on his property, by which means he has been successful in bringing the same into tillage; and that an infeription be engraved thereon, expeditive of the easie of voting it. And the Meeting recommend to other proprietors, to follow Mr Smith's laudable example.

The Society was much gratified to find, That, from the Secretary's statement of its sunds, arising from the voluntary annual subscriptions of patriotic Moblemen and Genstemen from all parts of Seculand, coming forward in such Genstemen from all parts of Seculand, coming forward in such mumbers as this day's ballot announces, that the Society is enabled to increase gradually its expenditure for promoting the objects of the institution; and the Meeting accordingly voted a considerable sum to be laid out by their Committee of Directors, in Premiums for the current year.

The Meeting approved of the stems taken by their Standing improvement of the Frignands, and indeed of the country at large, conceiving, that, if such a measure was in contemplation, the idea must arise from a misconception or misinformation with regard to the high expediency, and indeed necessity, of such an allotment of a small sum of the public money to a very important and beneficial public purpose—appointed a Special Committee to enquire into this matter, and to take such measures in relation thereto as to them might seem proper and recessary.

The Meeting afterwards proceeded to the election of President, Vice Presidents, and other Officers for the current

DE VELNO'S PILLS.

DE VELNO'S PILLS.

STRONG PROOFS OF THEIR EFFICACY.

MRS WHLIAMS, Sempstress, at Mr Gayleard's Hatter and Habit-maker, No. 82, New Bond-street, was afflicted with the Scurvy to avery violent degree for three or four years, appearing on her hands, arms, and legs, in numerous large florid blotches; some about an inch, others two inches in diameter. Astonishing as it may appear, it is nevertheless true, that after taking only one box of DE VEENO'S VRGETABLE PILLS, large scales dried off from the surface of these cruptions, and, after another box, in ovestige whatever of her complaint was discernable. She is now, and has been for some months, in as good health as she ever enjoyed. This surprising cure (as is always the case with De Velno's Pills) was effected imperceptibly, and without any confinement or restraint in diet.

A NOTRER CASE.

Mr D. MEDHURST, Cabinet-maker, late of St Johnstreet, but now of No. 18, Dorrington-street, Cold-bath-fields, had likewise suffered much from the Scurvy for several years, and for six weeks was confined to his bed with a Scorburic humour, which broke out in his leg, attended with great inflammation. He was informed that De Velno's Pills would give him speedy relief, and effectuate a complete cure; and a short trial of them corroborated this account, for the inflammation subsided, and the ulcer soon cicatrized, enabling hum to pursue his business as usual. He is now perfectly recovered, and will readily authenticate this statement to any persons of respectability, making application at his house.

TO THE PUBLIC.

The astonishing and unparalleled cure of E. Elliston, Esq. No. 35, Mortimer-street, Cavendish-square, who has been 18 years troubled with a most inveterate Scorbutic Humour, and was on the eve of being doomed to an hazardous, and, at all events, an unnecessary Salivation, has been repeatedly advertised; but it should be recollected that it was published at his own request, from the purest motives of humanity and philanthropy—an honourable example for imitation.

The Proprietor of De Velno's Vegetable Pills cannot suppose that any thing he could say would have an effect equal with that of the foregoing honourable and unsolicited testimonials; but, nevertheless, ventures to pledge himself that this valuable Vegetable Alterative will effect all that can rationally be expected from any medicine in the pelief and cure of Scrophula, Scurvy, Scorbutic Eruptious, Rheumatism, Dropsy, and all disorders proceeding from Impurities in the Blood.

Prepared and sold wholesale and retail, by the sole Proprietor, J. Pladike, late surgeon in the Army, at his warchouse, No, 76, Oxford-street, London; and none can be genuine, unless signed with red int in his own hand.
